Dennis Corporation Opens New Headquarters in Columbia, SC

Columbia, SC- Dennis Corporation of Columbia, South Carolina would like to announce its incorporation as a licensed civil engineering, survey and construction services firm. Dennis Corporation plans to grow by acquiring top talent employees, dedicating itself to quality and innovation, and maintaining a commitment to superior client service. The goal of Dennis Corporation will be to become highly competitive in the South Carolina engineering and construction industries.

Dennis Corporation is also pleased to announce the opening of our new corporate headquarters in Columbia, SC. The new office is located at 5000 Thurmond Mall, Suite 114 in Columbia. The firm will specialize in the planning, design and construction inspection of public roadways throughout the State of South Carolina.

The firm is led by Mr. Dan Dennis, a graduate of The Citadel obtaining a B.S., Civil Engineering in 1990 and a Masters of Business Administration from The Citadel Evening College in 1993. He is a registered professional engineer and land surveyor. Mr. Dennis' past fifteen years of work history include experience as an inspector, assistant resident engineer, construction manager, and design engineer and land surveyor on various types of transportation projects.

Leading the Construction Services Division is Mr. Tim Antley, BSCE, with over thirteen years of construction management and inspection experience. Mr. Antley served as the Assistant Resident Construction Engineer in SCDOT District Four and Resident Construction Engineer in SCDOT District One. Mr. Antley's experience includes design, inspection, construction management and project management for many road and bridge projects.
