

DENNIS CORPORATION WINS 2008 PINNACLE AWARD

January 19, 2009

Columbia, SC - On January 16, 2009, Dennis Corporation was honored with the prestigious Pinnacle Award for Best Supplier/ Service Company from the Carolinas Associated General Contractors of America (CAGC) in ceremonies held at The Breakers in West Palm Beach, F.L. For 17 years, the Pinnacle Award has recognized companies within the North Carolina and South Carolina construction industry that demonstrate sound business efforts, stringent safety programs, employee benefit programs and notable contributions to the construction industry and community.

Dennis Corporation was the first engineering firm ever selected for the Pinnacle Award for Best Supplier/ Service Company. Two factors that significantly contributed to winning the Pinnacle Award were Dennis Corporation's safety and internship programs. A firm believer in continuous development and training, Dennis Corporation strives to instill their employees with the knowledge and skill base that will guide them to the forefront of the engineering industry.

Dennis Corporation's persistent support of the construction industry, local community and employees on every level has led them to receive a multitude of other awards and recognitions. Some of these include the 2006, 2007 and 2008 American Council of Engineering Companies Engineering Excellence Awards, City of Columbia Business Spotlight of the Month December 2007, Asphalt Recycling and Reclamation Association's 2008 Award for Excellence in Soil Stabilization and the Greater Columbia Chamber of Commerce's 2008 Palmetto Pillar Award for Excellence in Technology in Industry. As one judge on the Pinnacle Award panel commented, "Dennis Corporation is extremely customer-oriented; their fast growth is a result of the quality of their work."
